

August 4 – September 1, 2013
at Audio Visual Arts
34 East 1st Street
New York, NY 10003
audiovisualarts.org

Opening reception:
Sunday, August 4, 2013 / 4-6pm

Generator is the brainchild of New York based artist Gen Ken Montgomery. Known as “New York’s first sound art gallery”, Generator existed in the East Village and then in Chelsea from 1989-1992. Cassettes, records, video, art, laminations, zines, ephemera, and more from the original Generator will be on view in Audio Visual Arts over the course of this show. Gen Ken will be present each Saturday and Sunday through September 1. Gen Ken will host performances and listening experiences by artists who were at the original Generator, including octophonic Cassette Concerts by the late Berlin artist/composer Conrad Schnitzler, to whom this exhibition is dedicated. Original content will be available for viewing and purchase.

FRONT IMAGE: BACKDOOR OF THE EAST VILLAGE GENERATOR

PRESS "RECORD"
&
SPEAK YOUR MIND

GENERATOR
A Division of General Electric
1000 North 17th Street
Amherst, MA 01002

